WHOM FIRST WE LOVE.

BY JULIA WARD HOWE.

Whom first we love, you know, we seldom wed;
Time rules us all. And life, indeed, is not
The thing we planned it out ere hope was dead:
And then we women cannot choose our lot.

Much must be borne which is hard to bear,
Much given away which it 'twere sweet to keep.
God help us all! who need, indeed, His care:
And yet I know the Shepherd loves His sheep.

My little boy begins to babble now
Upon my knee his earliest infant prayer;
He has his father's eager eyes, I know,
And they say, too, his mother's sunny hair.

But when he sleeps and smiles upon my knee,
And I can feel his light breath come and go,
I think of one—Heaven help and pity me!
Who loved me, and whom I loved, long ago.

Who might have been—ah, what, I dare not think
We are all changed. God judges for us best.
God help us do our duty and not shrink,
And trust in Heaven for the rest.

But blame us women not, if some appear
Too cold at times, and some too gay and light;
Some griefs gnaw deep, some woes are hard to bear
Who knows the past? And who can judge us right.

Ah, were we judged by what we might have been,
And not by what we are—too apt to fall!
My little child he sleeps and smiles between These thoughts and me. In Heaven we shall know all.

MORE DEADLY THAN CANNON.

Wendell Phillips, in an address in Music Hall, Boston, once said:

"I know a soldier in the Army of the Potomac, who was picked up in the streets of Philadelphia, one year ago, a complete wreck—a confirmed inebriate—but who was, by the love of a sister of charity of a Boston home, placed once more on his feet. He was at Ball's Bluff, and three times with unloaded musket, charged upon the enemy. He was one of the six who heroically defended and brought away the body of the fallen leader of that bloody fight. The captain of the company to which he belonged died in his arms, receiving his last words of consolation from his lips. He was afterward conspicuous in the conflict, until the orders were given for each one to seek his own safety. Removing some of his apparel he plunged into the inhospital river, and after great exertion landed on the opposite bank seven miles below the encampment. Nearly exhausted, half clad, half starved, he finally reached the camp. The captain of the next company to which he belonged, kindly said to him, pouring out a glass of wine, 'Let me give you this, you will perish without it.' 'I thank you, sir,' said the soldier, 'but I would sooner face all the cannon of the enemy than that glass of wine.'

EXTRACT FROM A LECTURE DELIVERED FORTY YEARS AGO, ON THE SOURCES OF INIQUITY.

The Marion Independent says: By request we publish the following extract from a lecture, delivered about forty years ago, by an old citizen of Marion, Ohio, on the Sources of Iniquity. The language may seem strong to many, but all are requested to read, ponder and decide. The extract is as follows:

Next comes the rumseller, (the father of the Samson of Iniqnity—Intemperance,) with his 84,000'000 gallons of distilled damnation sold per annum in the United States. Stand up, thou brow branded, Cainlike rumseller, stand up before the bar of public opinion and hear the charges I bring against thee. Thou art a murderer above the laws. I have proved this charge from his own infamous book upon the art of adulterating liquors, made by scientific men, by the rumseller's own testimony, and by a host of witnesses, and I will prove it again. Would you have more testimony? Then let the departed visit the green earth again. Break the turf above your mouldering bones, ye hosts of drunkards! Shake off the bone dust from your crumbling brows, and stalk into court in your tattered shroud and bony whiteness, and testify against him!

Say unto him as Nathan said unto the royal David, 'Thou art the man.' Come down from the gallows thou rum maddened man slayer, grip the bloody knife again and testify against him.

Crawl from the slimy ooze, thou drowned, drunken victim, and with suffocating, blue and livid lips testify against him. Bring that rum deranged suicide into court with his throat cut and let the dripping gore drops testify against him. Make way for that frost stiffened corpse there. 'Tis the drunkard's wife driven from her bed to die in the pitiless peltings of a midnight snow storm; let the frozen tear on her pale, icy cheek testify against him.

Break the seal of silence thou unrelenting past and let the shrieks and groans of his victims come back, wailing upon the night winds to testify against him. Unroll and read thou recording angel, the murder indictments which thou hast written in the books of God's remembrance to testify against him.

Snap your burning chains, yo spirits damn'd by alcohol, and rush up all sheeted in fire to testify against him. Plead, plead like angels trumpet tongued against the deep damnation of your taking off.

'God created man in his own image, in the image of God created He him.' Who with impious and polluting hand defaces the image and superscription of his maker and stamps him with the counterfeit die of the Devil? Alcohol! Man by nature walks erect; lifts his forehead to the stars, power and dominion have been given him over all the creatures of th earth; he is nature's king. Who breaks his support of authority, robs him of his imperial crown, and degrades him below the brute? Alcohol! Who destroys his reason, hides her bright beams in mystic clouds that roll around the temple of his soul, curtained in midnight? Alcohol!

Do any of you want to become a fool—nay, worse, become the jibe and derision of fools? Let him drink liquor. Do any of you want to be a rascal with a hang gallows look, or become a low vulgar, blackguard? Drink liquor. If you are a father and want to see your children ragged and ignorant, growing up young candidates for the penitentiary or gallows, drink liquor. If you are a son and want to pay with black ingratitude the debt you owe your parents, and bring down their revered gray hairs in sorrow to the grave, drink liquor. If you are a husband and want to steal all the beauty from your sweet wife's face, break her health and heart, make her wretched and perfectly miserable, drink liquor. Do any of you want to get into debt, and put the officers of law upon your track to dog you daily? Drink liquor.

Do any of you want to lose the property you have gathered together by the sweat of your brow, as a home for your wife and little ones, and as a retreat in old age? Drink liquor. Do any of you want to work for the devil and find yourself, or at best, get paid off in the wages of sin, which is death? Drink liquor.

If you want to pay a high premium for the pleasure of being poisoned, drink liquor. If you want to bid an eternal farewell to freedom, and be a greater slave than was ever lashed at night to his dungeon, drink liquor. If you want to exchange a healthy body, so wonderfully made, for a diseased, cursed frame that a demon would scorn to inhabit and the soul quits in disgust, drink liquor.

If you want to blast with disease your body, from head to foot, sweep every line where manly beauty lingers and early heap the clay upon a foul mass of corruption, more disgusting than the leprosy of Naaman, or the sores of Lazarus, drink liquor. If you want to go down to the grave unwept, unhonored and unsung, and let infamy there spread her sable plume and fling its blackness o'er a drunkard's tomb, drink liquor.

I know all about alcohol, the diseases it produces, and how it produces them, and I fearlessly say and defy a successful contradiction, that the sly stabs, deadly blows, the direct effects of alcohol kill more men than die regular drunkards. G.

IT WON'T LET US ALONE.

Rev. E. P. Thwing recently delivered a temperance address in Quincy, in the course of which he used the following illustration. Said he: "It is sometimes said that rum never hurts those who let it alone." Go stand tonight beneath this waning moon, on the southwestern slopes of Mount Auburn, and you will see a little new made grave. Over it bends the branches of a walnut tree, through which the struggling moonbeams reveal the resting place of our latest born and earliest taken. It is sweet with flowers and tears, and consecrated by prayer and psalm. Autumn showers have steeped the sod, yet one sees that it is the grave of a child. When I go to the grave I cannot help feeling a new consecration to this noble reform. Do you ask why? Startle not when I answer from my heart. Rum helped to dig my boy's grave. Indirectly, perhaps, but really. Yes, intoxicating drink stole away the sense of one who was in charge of these two little brothers when their parents were absent at the death bed of a mother. Deserting her charge she wandered about, incoherently talking about unfulfilled duties, and left them without food or drink, companionship or care. Half starved, and chilled, the little convalescent soon relapsed, and passed away ere long to the safer custody of Christ above. I have no curses to pour on any living being no matter how deeply he may have sinned; but on the traffic which not only stupifies man, but besots women—which puts property in peril and renders life insecure—upon that I heap my hottest hate! By all the love I bore that precious child, by all that is high and holy, I vow against this trade eternal war.

At a woman's rights meeting in Oberlin last week Mrs. Livermore spoke. She expressed in very forcible language her indignation at those persons in the audience who caused the confusion; said that it forcibly reminded her of Lucretia Mott, twenty years ago before a Boston audience in Faneuil hall, where she was hissed and derided for proclaiming the great truths of liberty and humanity; those great principles had triumphed, and the cause of woman's rights is as sure to become victorious as that the sun will rise again; not ten years will intervene before woman is enfranchised. She spoke in no very complimentary terms of the two hundred women in Lorain county who sent their protest to the legislature against woman's suffrage. There were, she said, over two hundred thousand who had petitioned for suffrage, and it was presumption in two hundred undertaking to control two hundred thousand.

GOOD ADVICE.

Dr. Thomas D. Carr, left some very good lessons to those who drink whisky, as well as a few things for those to remember who sell it. When standing on the scaffold he exclaimed:

"The bitter cup they call whisky has brought me here. It will ruin any man. Whisky, whisky is what has brought me where I now stand—a condemned murderer; about to be launched into eternity. Oh, take my advice, and banish it. Banish whisky and you banish crime. Look at the gallows erected to hang me—a soldier who fought five years to defend the government. Keep liquor away from your citizens, banish whisky and you will have no more wicked men like Tom Carr, to execute. I pray earnestly that God will break up the dram shops. Pray for it every one."

A statement is made in some of the Pennsylvania papers that a citizen of that state has perfected an invention that is destined to effect a complete revolution in the present system of building and running railroads. His plan is to lay four rails instead of two to s single track road; to build the cars seventeen feet wide, with double sets of wheels. These he proposes to have propelled by double engines of sixty tons, which he says can draw trains containing a thousand passengers each. He claims that both the passenger and freight cars on this construction will weigh five tons less than any two similar cars of the present make; there is not the least vibrating motion to the trains while running, even at a speed of sixty miles an hour, and that it will be almost impossible to overturn these cars. The inventor has applied for a patent. By this system, he claims that the trip can be made from New York to San Francisco in sixty hours, including stoppages.

CHAPTER ON LEGS.

Mrs. Anna Cora Mowatt Ritchie, in her London letter to the San Francisco Chronicle, handles the legs of some of her American and English sisters in this free manner:

We trust our fair American sisters will not be shocked by our unhesitating use of the word 'legs,' which they are accustomed to designate as 'limb,' or 'lower limb.' In England that little subterfuge would be pronounced indelicate and affected; and it certainly is the latter, if not the former.

But to our story. White, symmetrical feminine legs are said to be disappearing from American soil. They are so much ascendant in England that ladies of rank have invented a new method of making known their fair proportions. We read in the March number of the Galaxy in a work just published, two American medical men put forth the gross slander that "a handsome leg is a rarity—we had almost said, an impossibility—among American women!" We do not believe the ungallant libel, though American ladies certainly are not in the habit of publishing their charms by having casts taken of their shapely legs, as an ornament for drawing room tables, or to be sold for the benefit of the vender of casts, or to be circulated among friends as a delicate token of friendship and valuable work of art. What we are about to relate appears, at the first blush, so incredible that we hold ourself responsible for its exact truth.

Upon the drawing room table of a lady of rank in London—a lady of high position and irreproachable character—may be seen, beneath a glass case, a lovely dimpled little foot, delicate ankle, rounded calf, up to the knee-joint; it is the cast of the leg of Lady —— hostess. In Soho Square there is a small shop, in which you can purchase, for five shillings, a cast of one of the most exquisite legs, the original—in the flesh—belongs to Lady ——de G —— and R ——, who went to this little shop incog., and had her perfect leg moulded, and afterward generously gave the shopman the privilege of selling copies of the cast, which he does daily, for it was quickly discovered to whom the beauteous leg belonged.

One lady, the wife of a mayor of a town in the provinces, came to London and had two casts taken of her leg; one nude, and one with a neat little shoe, stocking and garter. Strange to say (though no artist will call it strange,) the leg with the stocking and garter produced an effect much further removed from modesty than the leg quite unclad. Brucciana, the cast vender in Covent Garden, drives a brisk business in casting ladies' legs, and has any quantity of models of all descriptions taken from life, for sale. How this leg mania originated we have never heard, but there is certes explanation for this sudden passion among the aristocratic fair to have their legs recognized; perhaps it is only because "a thing of beauty is a joy forever."

POOR TEACHERS AND LOW WAGES.

Many teachers complain of insufficient salaries, and with good reason. Many patrons complain, with equally good reason, of incompetent teachers. The cause of both complaints may be traced to the fact that very many of both sexes rush into the profession of teaching without the least intention of making it their life work. They look upon teaching as simply a means to some end. Gentlemen who wish to study for the ministry, law, or medicine, teach to secure money to prosecute their studies. Ladies who are thrown upon their resources, teach because there is nothing else that they can do to maintain themselves, which, in the existing state of society, would be considered equally respectable. I have often heard such teachers remark that they dreaded the school-room, and would never enter one again were it not for the money to be secured.

Such teachers have no right to a place in the profession, and yet they are employed in alarming numbers. Of course they can afford to teach for a smaller salary than those who have spent much time and money in fitting themselves for a life work as teachers. They come into competition with better qualified teachers, and compel them to teach for the same salary, or not at all. This is the prime source of trouble. The person who enters the profession with love for his work, will tax all his energies to secure complete success. He will aim at all possible excellence in scholarship, in general information, in school discipline, and every thing which can secure the highest good of his school. While those who have no heart in the work, will be content to drag through the term almost any way, if they can merely keep the position for the time they desire, and thus secure the coveted share of public money.—Ohio Ed. Monthly.

A minister at Pittsfield, Mass., at whose church congregational singing is practiced, gave out a hymn of six verses one Sunday, remarking that if the congregation sung it well, the entire hymn might be sung, but if it was too poorly performed, one or two verses would be enough.

To make a cord of wood go a great ways—leave it out of doors. It has been known to go as much as two miles.

A NEW RELIGIOUS SECT.

Great religious excitement exists at Macopin, twelve miles from Paterson, N. J. A new religious society called Jehovah's Band has been started, supplanting a favorite station of the Methodist church. The members sent their best preachers to combat the heresy, but they are repudiated. Each in turn is forced to leave.

The peculiar form of worship develops itself in puffing, blowing, whistling, shouting, jumping, wrestling, falling to the floor and rolling over and kicking. Both men and women engage in the exercises. Baptism is by immersion in the village mill pond, in the dead hour of the night. On Sunday they hold continuous service, and take a recess for meals only, refusing to read a newspaper or even receive a letter on that day.

Every Thursday evening they hold their meetings in the school house, until a difficulty about the candles used led them to leave it, and now they meet at any house in the neighborhood where the spirit manifests itself.

John Reinsmith, a wealthy and well to do farmer of the neighborhood, is the chief man of the band, and recently had his house rebuilt especially to accommodate the brethren; one room resting on strong beams, it stands the jumping; but about a month ago an ardent member, in a paroxysm of fanaticism, declared that when filled with the Holy Ghost he felt as light as air, and even though they jumped upon a looking glass, they would not so much as bruise it with a scratch; whereupon he began to jump upon the stove hearth and broke it off, and then leaping on the top, broke in the frail covers, and finally smashed a big rocking chair before he subsided.

Recently Rhinesmith baptised Mr. Gilbert B. Speaker, a man of family and a convert to the new faith, the baptism taking place in Rhinesmith's mill pond, before the members of the band and amid shouts and cries, the whole gang at one time shouting fire, to the alarm of others in the neighborhood, it being then after midnight.

One of the band told the reporter that, as he was at work in his barn, he got the spirit, and that he ran one mile over ditches and fences before the spirit left him, and all this time he was so elated that he thought he was flying.

When jumping in ecstacy of the Holy Ghost, they say their spirits rise far above their bodies.

They permit no person excepting those belonging to the band to join with them in singing or jumping, or any other of their exercises, although no objection is made to the attendance of outsiders at the meetings of the band. A dozen will have the floor at once, pounding and kicking, and the whole crowd seems worked up to a fearful state of excitement, some jumping until they fall; the women shrieking in the wildest manner, and others praying, whistling or puffing, as for a wager.

They permit no levity on the part of the young folks during their proceedings. Mr. Cobb, one of the band, is thought to be growing insane under the excitement of this religious phrenzy. There is no doubt that the members of the band are sincere enthusiasts. The society now numbers over five hundred members.

CHURCH TOBACCO CHEWERS.

Church going tobacco chewers should paste the following in their hymn book, where every Sunday they may turn the leaf to read it. We cut it from the Akron Beacon:

Last evening at the Methodist church just before the last hymn was sung, Rev. W. F. Day, the pastor rose and made the following or nearly similar remarks:

This room—referring to the lecture room—is not intended to be always used for general services such as are now held in it, and for this reason the seats are made movable. Its use will be for the festivals of the church, to set tables in and eat in. Last Monday morning I came into this room and found, where a very respectable man had sat, a large puddle of nasty, filthy tobacco spittle. It was not fit to even have been in any man's mouth. I was sorry to see it on the floor, but I was glad the man had ejected it from his mouth. He was right in cleaning out his mouth. But to clean it out in such a place! Here where we expect to set tables and eat in time to come. The only place that I can imagine where a man should with impunity spit out such a filthy mess would be a bottomless pit, if such could be found. He should not clean out his mouth on the pavement for ladies' long dresses to sweep up, and I know of hardly another place than a bottomless pit. When I was a boy there used to be a notion when we were running and our sides ached, if we would stop, pick up a stone and spit on the other side of it, replacing it again, our sides would stop aching. Any man who chews a quid of tobacco would do an honor to himself if he only would spit under some stone. Or, he might spit in a handkerchief, and go off and bury it, for he could not ask any decent person to wash it for him. I hope there will be no more puddles of tobacco filth in this or any other room in the church. But, if you come to church with such a foul mess in your mouth and must clean it out, just come forward and occupy one of the pulpit chairs and spit in my hat.

A WAIL AS IS A WAIL.

[From the Lexington (Mo.) Caucasian.]

Down! Down!! Down!!! During the whole nine years of radical rule! The proudest, freest, most enlightened, prosperous, and happy nation on the globe, 1860. The lowest, basest, poorest, most utterly brutalized and enslaved, in 1870! Cotton field niggers legislating for the descendants of the Washingtons, Randolphs, Hamptons, and Lees! A Pennsylvania nigger befouling the seat of Pickens and Pickney on the supreme bench of South Carolina! A nigger barber scrawling his boorish X mark to the legislative enactments of Louisiana, as lieutenant governor and president of the state senate! A nigger cabin boy signing the commissions of congressmen, sheriffs, and circuit judges, as secretary of state of Mississippi! And a thievish nigger preacher, grinning and combing his lousy wool, in the place once filled by the hero, statesman, and patriot, Jefferson Davis, in the United States Senate, so called. Whilst a leprous, ulcer-eaten senator and ex-governor congratulates his associate blackguards and the country on the change!

God of the ruined and desolate! was ever a people so fallen before? Men of the north! Men of the south! Americans! Countrymen! Fellow slaves! Awake! Arise! Shake off your lethargy and face the truth! Give the hellions who've wrought the horrid change a little longer lease of power, and no Gabriel in all the wide universe, though he should spit his mighty tooter, can ever sound a blast powerful enough to resurrect us from the tenfold political death and damnation to which we're doomed! Cease your dastardly truckling and yielding to the death-deserving conspirators who have usurped the government! Cease your infamous temporizing, your cringing and fawning! set your face, like stubborn steel, against them and all their accursed schemes.

Remember that they are your enemies—the enemies of the republic—enemies of the constitution—sworn foes of liberty—foes of God, and of common humanity! Encouraging them, 'conciliating' them is tampering with your own destruction! They must be overthrown, annihilated, or you, we, and our country are eternally undone.

THE SOCIAL ELEMENT IN CHURCHES.

The Methodist insists on the importance of recognizing and providing for the social element in religious organizations. It contrasts churches that are sociable with those that are not, and finds the former far more efficient:

Some of our churches we are glad to notice, are now built with 'church-parlors,' a phrase which need not convey the idea of stiffness and ornamentation, for these parlors are meant to be used, and if used aright, may be made of great service to the church. He there ladies may meet to sew for the poor; here the church 'sociable' may be held, where young and old, rich and poor, may meet together and cultivate Christian friendship. We have known churches where members have never become acquainted with each other, though engaging in the same services every Sunday for years. They enter by different doors, sit on opposite sides of a large building, and do not recognize each other when passing in the streets. Any church ought to be ashamed of such a state of affairs as this, and ought to welcome any plan which produces a healthy change. A church parlor, where all can meet and get acquainted, would obviate the difficulty.

In the African celebration at Louisville, Kentucky, the other day, of the 15th amendment, they had a transparency in which the "Train of Progress" was depicted—a locomotive labelled "The Fifteenth Amendment," with a train of twenty nine cars attached, representing the ratifying states and a number of jackasses harnessed to the rear car, emblematic of the states refusing to ratify, and vainly trying to pull the train backward. A neat thing for Sambo—'a palpable hit.'

A master who had several apprentices was accustomed to feeding them largely on bean soup. This was well enough at first, but after a little while, with each succes ive soup a smaller number of beans appeared. One day at the table, after the good man had said grace, a la Squeers, one of the boys after a scrutinizing examination of his dish, was seen to suddenly rise from his chair and commence to strip.

'What are you about there, Thomas?' exclaimed the master in astonishment.

'Goin' to dive for a bean!' was the reply.

Beans were plenty after that.

Boggs, whose scanty income compels him to abide in one of the most frugal boarding houses of the town, says his landlady has mistaken her vocation.

She ought to be officer of the deck on one of our frigates, in war time, said Boggs.

Why?

Because the quality and scarcity of the food she gives conclusively proves that she is able at any time to repel boarders.

Everybody has heard of the Scotchman who went to a lawyer once for advice, and detailed the circumstances of the case. 'Have you told me the facts precisely as they occurred?' asked the lawyer. 'Oh! ay, sir,' replied he; 'I thoot it best to tell ye the plain truth. Ye can put the lies in to suit yourself!'

"No man can do anything against his will,' said a metaphysician to an Irishman. 'By jabers!' said Pat, 'I had a brother that went to jail, and I know it was greatly against his will."

The Independent.

Two Dollars a year, in advance.

Massillon, Wednesday, May 11.

The great object of the prohibition movement is to bring about such a state of political affairs as will result in electing sober, competent men to office. Other and kindred reforms will have its sympathy, but the great aim for which its friends are laboring, prohibition, is an object worthy of the attention, not only of the great state of Ohio, but of the nation; and as un practicable as it may seem to many who take little or no interest in the cause, it will ultimately triumph. Like the great slavery question, this one has a severe ordeal to pass, as it encounters appetite, avarice and selfishness in a thousand shapes, but being based on the principles of right there is no fail to it. Steadfastness in its friends is highly important, and those who have enlisted in this warfare have gone in for life.

The American Colonization Society, which has been in operation more than fifty years, having for its object the transporting to Liberia such colored people as desire to go there, and the elevation and education of the natives of Africa, has recently formed an auxiliary society for Ohio. Bishop McIlvane is president, with a quorum of vice presidents, secretary, board of directors consisting of one person in each congressional district, and an executive committee. Bro. G. I. Young, editor of the Buckeye Cyc, is a member of this board of directors for this district.

We publish a call, in to day's paper, for a prohibition state convention, which is to assemble at Columbus on Wednesday the first day of June, for the purpose of nominating a ticket for state officers, and to take such other measure for promoting the cause as may be deemed necessary.

Since the great calamity, which befel the people of Medina by the recent fire, measures are being taken to re build the town, and the hope is that they will ultimate in success. It necessarily follows, of course, that many people lost all the property they had, and are left destitute, but not so with all. Still if many did lose all their worldly possessions they have found friends who have generously sympathised with them, while those less unfortunate have means left with which to re establish themselves in business, and erect new houses. Such calamities are sometimes turned to good account, resulting in the building of better and more secure houses, and this may prove to be the case at Medina, as it has done at Chardon under like circumstances.

While the woman's movement for a sixteenth amendment, giving to her the privilege of voting in this country, is agitating the people, more or less, in every community, the English people are not at all quiet on the same subject. The house of commons at London, on the 4th inst., while we were working off the Independent, were voting on this very question, after having discussed it freely on the part of several members, for and against the measure. Mr. Jacob Bright presented a petition in this behalf. Mr. Sykes said that nearly 100,000 petitioners asked for this measure. Mr. Muntz favored the petition, and referred to the case of a woman who had an income of £80,000 ($400,000) who has not a word to say in the government, while her lackeys could help make and unmake members of parliament. A vote was taken on the second reading, which resulted in 124 ayes to 91 nays. There is no arresting this movement.

The people of France are about voting on national affairs. The result of their action will affect Napoleon, the emperor, and according to some accounts he seems disposed to instruct the Gauls how they shall vote so as to sustain his policy and power. In this country we have electioneering stumpers, who do a great deal of talking, but Napoleon of the three I's uses another sort of persuader which takes the shape of some half a million of bayonets in the hands of Frenchmen. They are the backers of the imperial will, and they are the power that will carry the election all one way. It is to that same power that the French press has to servilely submit, not daring to criticise the affairs of the government. But trouble is evidently brewing, and although Bonaparte may have prestige to rule yet a season, the time is not far off that his power will be gone, and his glory departed. The election was to take place on last Sunday.

Elsewhere we have tried to indicate our appreciation of the splendid Wallace troupe's success on Monday evening. Tuesday evening the audience was greatly increased and their action met with great applause. A full house awaits them to-night.

OHIO NATIONAL BANK.

CLEVELAND, April 30th, 1870.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of this institution, held this day, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That this Bank will declare a semi-annual dividend on next Monday, May 2, 1870, of 5 per cent. on its capital stock, free from government tax, payable on the first day of May proximo, and that the balance of net profit be carried to surplus fund account, after charging up the dividend $30,000 as before said, all taxes and expenses, together with a forged note of F. T. Wallace of $1,750.

Resolved, That it is deemed expedient to increase the capital stock of this Bank to an amount not less than $800,000, and not more than $1,000,000. Provided, we are furnished with circulation, and that the national currency act, if amended shall be made acceptable.

Resolved, That the cashier furnish copies of the foregoing resolutions to the stockholders of this bank, and to the comptroller of the currency.

JOHN McCLYMONDS,
Cashier.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

Wednesday Ev'g, May 4th, 1870.

Regular session—members all present except Mr Conrad.

Minutes of previous meeting read and approved.

Mr. chairman of the standing committee on the judiciary reported Ordinance No. 164, entitled "An Ordinance to amend sundry sections of Ordinance No. 139," entitled an ordinance prescribing the duties of the street commissioner of the city of Massillon.

The Judiciary committee reported that a by-law legislation upon the petition of H. Falke and others was unnecessary, inasmuch as Ordinance No 139, Sec. 13 prohibits the evil complained of. Report adopted.

Proposals for city printing were examined and rejected, and new proposals solicited.

The city Marshal reported that a suitable pound with stable room can be secured at the rate of $100 per annum, without stable $75 per annum. On motion of Mr. Mong the report was referred to the committee on Finance.

Petitions from sundry citizens asking the council to extend Elizabeth st., in the fourth ward, and Cider North st., from Prospect st. eastward to the race, were presented and referred to the Board of City Improvements.

An appropriation of $12 was made to defray expenses incurred at the fire of Mr. Brockel's store.

The Mayor was instructed to report the amount of money received by him as Mayor of the city of Massillon for the year ending April 1, 1870.

Judiciary committee was directed to report an ordinance prohibiting the sale, after dark, of inflammable oils, fluids and gunpowder.

PROHIBITION STATE CONVENTION.

The state convention will be held on Wednesday, June 1st, 1870, at Columbus, Ohio, commencing at 11 o'clock A. M., for putting in nomination candidates for the following state officers, viz:

Secretary of State.
Comptroller of the Treasury.
One Member of the Board of Public Works.

Also, to take any other action said convention may deem best in aid of the cause of Prohibition in the state.

All persons in favor of resorting to the ballot to obtain protection for persons and property, through legal prohibition of the manufacture and sale of liquors in the state that contain alcohol, and who endorse the platform of the national prohibition party adopted at Chicago, September 24, 1869, are hereby invited and urged to attend, and will be accepted delegates of the convention.

A series of cable telegrams from Europe, dated in Paris from the evening of yesterday to an early hour of this morning, bring news of the very highest importance. They report the close of the polls in the French plebiscitum and the counting of the votes. The result is not satisfactory to imperialism as exemplified by Bonapartism. Paris is unfriendly. The great city voted 'No' by 182,881 to 138,790. The rural districts—so far as heard from—say 'Yes,' by 106,536 to 39,310. The house is divided. Can the edifice be safely "crowned" under the circumstances? This is the grand French—the really great European—question of the hour. It is immediate and intense. The architect of the Tuileries, the workman in purple, must reply to it. He must answer immediately and decisively. It may be, answer to-day.

It is a momentous emergency. Paris is not only hostile in vote but fevered in her body corporate. Paris is excited. The democrats, the radicals, the "reds," have not labored in vain. Crowds of people demand to know the result. They surge from the polling places to the Tuileries. The soldiers, who voted in their barracks during the day are under arms in and around the royal palace and at other convenient points of operations. They may be commanded to reverse their own votes at the point of the bayonet; to "shoot, if commanded, their loving brothers" of the ballot box. They may refuse should deem it more prudent, more useful to their country and to their families, to their fellow men. Such is the situation as it remained in France at daybreak. It is democracy looking to the management of its own affairs—the great revolution working to "its legitimate conclusion." What is the legitimacy? When will be conclusion? The republic, the first consulate, the first empire, Ham, Boulogne, the coup d'etat, the second empire or the people—utrum horum?—N. Y. Herald, May 7.

Dr. Daniel Tilden, one of the most distinguished physicians of northern Ohio, died at his residence in Sandusky, on Sunday morning, in his eighty-seventh year. He was in active practice fifty seven years, and was regarded as one of the most learned and skilful in his profession.

A little girl worn out by a long sermon, observing the preacher gathering himself up for another point exclaimed: 'Oh, mother, he is not going to quit at all! He is swelling up again.'

The Fire Place is the name of a drinking saloon in Chicago. Any one can get warm by it for ten cents, and red hot for a quarter.

The Great Medical Discovery!

Dr. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS.

More than 500,000 persons bear testimony to their curative effects.

For Female Complaints, whether in old or young, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or the turn of life, these tonic bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

What are They?

They are a gentle purgative as well as a tonic, possessing also the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving congestion or inflamation of the liver, and all the Visceral Organs.

THEY ARE NOT A

VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of poor rum, whisky, proof spirits, and refuse liquor, doctored, spiced, and sweetened to please the taste, called tonics, appetizers, restorers, &c., that lead the tipler on to drunkeness and ruin, but are a true medicine, made from the native roots and herbs of California, free from all alcoholic stimulants.

They are the great blood purifier and life giving principle, a perfect renovater and invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter, and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell.

Also will be given for an incurable case, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poisons or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For inflamatory and chronic rheumatism, and gout, dyspepsia, or indigestion, bilious, remittent, and intermittent fevers, disease of the blood, liver, kidneys and bladder, these bitters have been most successful. Such diseases are caused by vitiated blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the digestive organs.

Cleanse and vitiate blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions or sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when you find it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure and the health of the system will follow.

Pin, tape, and other worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed.

In bilious, remittent and intermittent fevers, these bitters have no equal. For full directions read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

We, the Druggists of Massillon, call the attention of our customers to the letters published below of the wonderful efficacy of Dr Roback's Stomach Bitters, Dr. Roback's Scandinavian Blood Purifier, and Dr. Roback's Scandinavian Blood Pills. EDITOR.

ATHENS, ATHENS Co., O., August 10, 1869.

Dr. C. W. ROBACK,

Dear Sir:—Permit me to say in relation to your Scandinavian Blood Pills and Blood Purifier, that I have used several boxes and bottles, and have found their effects on my system to be all that is claimed for them in your advertisements. I have also seen the effects of your Pills upon a child four or five years old, in expelling worms from the bowels.—One dose given the child, confined to the bed, and apparently very sick, caused the worms to come away from it in great numbers, and they were found crawling and scattered all about. The child thus relieved recovered immediately, and is now well and hearty.

Yours, &c.

James B. Estep has white select cord, superior quality.

The largest stock of dry goods are being opened at Humberger & Son's.

The cheapest colored and white carpet chain in town at Ricks'.

Corsets, skirts, gloves, towelings, table linens, diapers, and napkins at Esteps.

Spring Cassimeres for boys' and gents' wear, cottonades, linen checks for boys, very cheap at Humberger & Son's.

Go to Ricks and see those very cheap and beautiful dress goods.

Hosiery for ladies, misses and gents in full line at low prices, at Estep's.

Ricks' have the largest and cheapest line of Paisley shawls in Massillon.

Splendid dress good at Humberger's for 25 cents.

Japanese silk and mottled poplins at Estep's.

Dress goods, good assortment, staple and fancy good at prices way down at Humberger & Son's.

A new lot of summer shawls just received at Ricks' very cheap.

EMINENT WOMEN OF THE AGE.—This is a work well worth the attention of the reading public. It is endorsed by the leading educators and divines, and should be read by all, especially by the ladies. Says an eminent divine, "It inspires noble ideas of womanhood in both sexes, thus correcting the many evils of the age." The contract by agent for this work is now in Massillon, and we say to all, do as we did—buy a copy.

Call at Estep's and see standard cloth prints at 10c to per yard, and good yard wide muslins at 12½ cents.

New styles of Hamburg, edging and inserting at Ricks'.

The Ellsler Theatrical troupe, of Cleveland, performed several popular pieces in the Opera House of this place during four nights of last week. The attendance, we understand, was not very large, but those who were present appear well pleased with the exhibitions they witnessed. By those acquainted with the company it is said to be a good one, and has met with considerable favor in the Forest City.

Hats and hat ribbons, bows and bow ribbons, sash and trimming ribbons in profusion at Estep's.

The Hadley spool cotton is the best in use. Ricks' is the place to buy it.

A band of gipsies is now located just west of town. They would can tell fortunes—so they say—and the men trade horses.

The stone bridge crossing the river, and over which Main street passes is now provided with iron railing on each side, sufficiently high to render it impossible for anybody to tumble off into the water.

The G. A. R. Post of this, we are informed, contemplate observing the 30th of this month in an appropriate manner in memory of their fallen comrades, who repose in the Massillon Cemetery. Other associations of this place it is said, will be invited to participate with them, and it is hoped that this invitation will meet with a hearty and practical response on the part of all. Decoration day is an institution worthy of observation, and will be held in lasting remembrance by every patriotic heart.

Mr. P. G. Albright last week most agreeably surprised many people by opening out a large table covered with rare and beautiful flowers, which attracted the attention of every passer by. Especially were the ladies led to stop and see this fine collection; and no doubt Mr. A. has made the enterprise a paying one, because it supplies a want which many realize.

The very pleasant weather of last week, it is said caused some farmers to plant corn—it was rather early, and there is considerable risk to run, as it stands a chance of being nipped some of the cold mornings yet to visit us.

A late number of the Chicago Sport'n'n., published by Marder, Luse & Co., contains an article of serious importance to the printing fraternity—and that is to say, "the greatest curse resting upon the printers and journalists of the country to day, is their accursed thirst for strong drink." More than a column of facts, solid reasons and exhortations, worthy the regard of the craft, follows, and it is to be hoped that these warnings will have the effect to persuade some if not many, who are on the downward road, to reform their career. There is great need for it. If printers are, as is often claimed, among the lights of mankind, leading to knowledge and greatness, certain it is that such leaders should be sober men. A drunken leader is worse than a blind one, because of his recklessness.

Some of our neighbors are already talking of doing the Fourth of July, and why should Massillon be behind hand in this direction? We have not had a demonstration here of that sort since 1865, and certainly once in five years that day ought to be recognized among us. All the people can now celebrate the day—there are no slaves to clank their chains in dissonance with the patriotic strains of the music of thousands of bands all over the county.

The INDEPENDENT endeavors to keep our people somewhat posted on local matters, as this is the province of most of the once-a-week papers everywhere. We wish not to brag or blow without authority, and in uttering words of favor concerning the prosperity of our thriving city, we very modestly almost forget ourselves. By this it will be seen that the INDEPENDENT IS, that is, it is in active existence, and prospering too. It is a comfortable fix to be in, and we rather like it.

As will be seen by notice elsewhere Mr. S S Whisler has dissolved his connections with the firm of Whisler Bros., and Mr. Joseph Kaly, long a liveral & known citizen here, has taken his place, and the meat market will be continued at the same place in Mr. Coleman's new frame building on Main street.

The object of the entertainment at the Opera House on the last three evening of this week is a most commendable one and deserves a liberal patronage.

Bro. Clark, proprietor of the Wadsworth Enterprise, has just been enlarging his small sheet to nearly double its former size. This betokens prosperity, and our neighbor deserves it, for every week bears evidence of his untiring industry to make the paper valuable to its readers.

Remember the entertainments at the Opera House are for the benefit of the Cemetery Association and not a private enterprise.

Bro. Green, proprietor of the Medina Gazette, which was entirely destroyed by the disastrous fire, is making vigorous efforts to re-establish his excellent paper, and by a late exchange we see that a laudable and practical sympathy is manifesting itself among the people of the county in his favor.

THE PROPER PAVEMENT.—Our worthy city architect, D. H. Foster, Esq., has favored us with a copy of the Cleveland Herald, in which Hon. Jesse Nicholson, is highly commended for his efficiency as the city of Cleveland has tried it on several of their streets, and it works well. A circular is also enclosed, signed by the mayor and civil engineer of Cleveland, who have been making extended observations of this class of pavement and from what they have seen in many cities, east and west, they have a high opinion of its numerous advantages over all others. This year Cleveland is going with the Nicholson pavement strong, and so should Massillon. Mr. Carey, of that city will attend to the laying of the same here.

It is a fault we have to find with our city authorities as to the propriety of introducing this invention on our streets. Whether the present meets with a favorable response or not, we are satisfied our council and the citizens will welcome his visit.

Concerts and tableaux at the Opera House Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings.

One day last week Mr. D. Baughman, living in Tuscarawas township, killed on one occasion, and by the help of three dogs, no less than slaughtered one hundred and sixty of the vermin in three hours. The demonstration was good for the safety of the corn-field or grain stack, but proved bad for the mice. What number of slain rodents would make a splendid Chinese feast, and their hides, in the hands of French artizans, would make several dozens of kid gloves. A well tanned rat's hide is a nice, tough material, and useful for many purposes. They are easily and quickly tanned.

Our Canton neighbors, judging from what the papers say, were highly pleased with the treat and amusement occasioned by the Wallace Sisters' Troupe, which favored them with several exhibitions last week.

Don't fail to see the tableaux and hear the concert.

The entertainments which will be given at the Opera House on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, May 12, 13 and 14th will consist of tableaux and a concert. The proceeds are for the Massillon cemetery association to be expended in building a house for the residence of the sexton, &c. Quite a liberal purse has already been subscribed for that purpose—and it is hoped that this entire community will give to these entertainments that liberal patronage which the case merits, and thereby enable the board of officers to protect the arrangements which have been contemplated.

COMMITTEE.

See new advertisements of Mr. Oliver Baker, of Akron, to-day's paper. He offers to the trade a large variety of staple goods at unusually low rates. As our city and Akron are now so near each other, it is an easy matter to interchange visits, and while our people are invited to go there to make purchases—which is a good plan for those desiring to do so—may it not be advisable for some of our business men to invite the people of Akron to call and see ours in a business way, and purchase goods?

Several days of last week the heat here was up to summer standard, the mercury reaching not far from 75 to 80 degrees. Followed by warm thunder showers it made everything in the shape of vegetables grow with a rush. In some places we notice that the mercury rose above 80 degrees. Now if that cold old fellow can be kept away!

Last week, in referring to an unfortunate man recently sent to state prison, from Carroll county, for burglary, the impression in this vicinity was that the person alluded to was W. T. McDowell (that is, William Thomas McD., or Bill McD.,) as he is familiarly called by the printer, but it proves to be a mistake. Bill, with all his shortcomings, is not in the hands of law officers for alleged burglary, but a younger man having the same name, and a nephew, is the guilty one. This correction is due to Billy—but we don't come down on his guilt as to drinking a great deal of bad whisky.

The Akron Beacon one day last week republished a very interesting account of ceremonies connected with laying the first lock stone on the Ohio canal, which took place early in September, 1825, now nearly forty five years ago. The article appeared originally in the in the Western Courier (a Ravenna paper) under date of Sept. 17, 1825, and locates the proceedings near Middlebury. The masonic lodge of Middlebury took a leading part in the celebration and the names of the officers are published in the narratives alluded to. Mr. E. Forrey, grand marshal of the day, made a brief but appropriate address on the importance of the work then begun. Rev. E. Williams uttered an appropriate prayer, and singing by the choir, led by Asaph Whittlesey, accompanied by instrumental music, formed an attractive portion of the exercises, which were witnessed by a large concourse of people. About 1828, some three years afterward, navigation on the canal was opened at Massillon.

Several of our people have been severely afflicted, within a few weeks, by painful attacks of neuralgia, some being disabled from active exercise. No fatality has attended any of the cases that we hear of, and a more settled condition of the weather will probably bring relief to those thus afflicted.

You are expected to patronize the tableaux and concerts every evening.

While foreign singers, both vocalists and instrumentalists, are astonishing our people with their great powers of song and harmony, the people of Europe seem to be equally astonished at the demonstrations recently made by some of our American vocalists. The Musical Guest says that a young American girl of fifteen recently so enraptured a distinguished Italian master, at Milan, that he kissed her in an ecstacy of delight, without asking, by your leave. Another American lady at Messina captivated a large audience so that she received showers of bouquets, and many valuable jewels, as spontaneous offerings for her success. Jenny Lind could hardly excel that in her best days. There is now at Paris, France, another young American lady, Miss Whinery, of Salem, who is receiving musical instruction from the best teachers of that magnificent capital, and bids fair to equal any other artiste who are now before the public in that profession whether of our own or other countries. Miss Whinery is a descendant of Quaker ancestry, a class of people, especially the older ones, who were religiously taught to eschew music as of a worldly and sinful nature. She is a daughter of Dr. John Whinery, a successful and worthy dentist who has for many years lived at Salem.

THE WALLACE SISTERS.—This company gave their first entertainment at the Opera House, on Monday evening, and we can not say too much in their praise. If we should mention one more especially than the other we would almost do injustice, as all are alike good in their respective roles. But it is natural for us to compliment the ladies, and as Mr Villa enacted the part of one on this occasion, he certainly must come in for a share of our praise. The play presented was Clotilda, in which Mr Villa appeared in the title role, and we can but justly say that he is immense, his singing invariably brought down the house. One could imagine him one of those unfortunates who wish to be considered young and pretty, and are a little too old for the matter and none too handsome. We particularly admired the two little prodigies, Minnie and Maud, they are wonders. Little Maud as the Fairy Queen, certainly was a little fairy; and Minnie, as Cinderilla, did a fine piece of acting. She would do credit to one of older years. Master Jennie and Agnes are not only fine actresses but are beautiful singers, and are by no means the least admired. In fact the whole troupe are rare artistes, and are worthy the liberal support of the public. Their wardrobes are splendid and of the finest material. Taking all in all, it is one of the most refined and enjoyable entertainments that has ever visited our city. Tuesday evening they presented the Field of the Cloth of Gold, and on this, their last evening with us, will present the Grand Duchess. We would advise all who wish to pass an evening in looking at first class entertainment to go and see them.

Bro. McKee, of the Alliance Democrat, made us a brief visit yesterday. He reports prosperity and go ahead. About 1829 or 1830 we were apprentices in the old Public office at New Lisbon. Time is making his marks on bro M's head as well as the rest of us, but he holds his own right well.

Nearly half of the town of Fincastle, Va., was burned on Friday night. The court house was saved.

PARALYSIS CURED.

DERBYVILLE, Harris co., Ohio.
May 12th, 1869.

Messrs RADWAY & Co.,

GENTLEMEN:—The RESOLVENT has effected a cure in a very severe case of a Mrs. Lamar Johnston in this neighborhood, she was confined to her bed, and had lost the use of her limbs.—four bottles of the RESOLVENT has restored her, and for 5 months she was able to attend church. The demand for the RESOLVENT has since used, and I consider it a useful article in time

Yours truly, R. PITTS & SON.

SARSAPARILLIAN.

So quick is RADWAY'S SARSAPARILLIAN or BLOOD PURIFYING RESOLVENT in entering into the circulation and commencing its work, more properly so RADWAY'S SARSAPARILLIAN applies a want that are ever exhausted.

RADWAY'S SARSAPARILLIAN or RENOVATING RESOLVENT furnishes positive evidence of its Purifying and Painful effects in curing persons confined to bed and helpless and Barren who have since married and had children.

STOP THE WASTE OF LIFE!

RADWAY'S SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT and PILLS are the life-saving treat in so many persons who have taken the place of many through the nurses. It is the true cure for Scrofulous Complaints, Nightly Emissions, &c.

SYPHILOID ULCERS,

Sores of all kinds, Eruptions, Cancers, Sore Heads, Sores on the Tongue, Throat, Nose, Mouth, Ulcers of the Throat, cured by RADWAY'S SARSAPARILLIAN.

IMPOTENCY.

The best evidence we have of the powerful Purifying and Vitalizing properties of RADWAY'S SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT is that it has in Impotency and secret practices, even where they had destroyed the power of Insanity through it, and were cured by the Resolvent, one hundred fold, and were cured by the Resolvent, when supposed under the old process in 1850, who have since married and have children now living. A few bottles will restore the vigor of life.

VIGOR OF LIFE RESTORED.

Persons who, from indiscretion, over-indulgence, injuries, suffer from nightly losses or weakness, the excreting vessels of the genital organs will be cured by RADWAY'S SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT.

THE TRUE THEORY OF PURGATION

APPLIED TO THE

Liver, Kidneys, Skin, STOMACH & BOWELS.

DR. RADWAY'S PERFECT PURGATIVE PILLS,

Perfectly Tasteless,

ELEGANTLY COATED.

MATERIA MEDICA combines, in its repertoire many purgatives and cathartic agents that, for ordinary purposes, operate on the bowels, and through what is called a "peristaltic" movement, purge from the alimentary canal the feces and this is all. Such agents, for the purpose of cure, or removal of any settled disease, are utterly useless.

DR. RADWAY has completed one of the most essential discoveries in medical chemistry,—in the combination of vegetable substances, for the purposes of a PURGATIVE, APERIANT, COUNTER-IRRITANT, ALTERATIVE PILL, that can be taken or administered with the absolute certainty of securing a THOROUGH EXPULSION OF ALL DECAYED AND DECOMPOSING Elements of the human body, and also able to take in the most indignant of Digestive Fevers. In cases where the mucous membranes of the internal viscera are suffering from Ulceration, Inflammation, or from

Gastric, Biliary, Pancreatic Complaints,

DR. RADWAY'S PILLS

Supply the only Vegetable substitute for

CALOMEL OR MERCURY.

In RADWAY'S PILLS you have one medicine that will secure quicker, more thorough and better results than will be given in most three or more different prescriptions of the medical practitioner. As a proof of this —You are asked with a fulness attack Boston press rheumatism—and you would rather die than be cured in the usual, sweat, and blood in ten minutes after it has been taken.

A Pain dare to quack in entering into the circulation and commencing its work, more properly so. RADWAY'S SARSAPARILLIAN applies a want that are ever exhausted.

RADWAY'S SARSAPARILLIAN or RENOVATING RESOLVENT furnishes positive evidence of its Purifying and Painful effects in curing persons confined to bed and helpless and Barren who have since married and had children.

STOP THE WASTE OF LIFE!

RADWAY'S SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT and PILLS are the life-saving treat in so many persons who have taken the place of many through the nurses. It is the true cure for Scrofulous Complaints, Nightly Emissions, &c.

SYPHILOID ULCERS,

DR. RADWAY'S PILLS.

IN RADWAY'S PILLS, the true principle of purgation is secured—at last—to the profession of dismissing the thousand pernicious compounds from the boards in the Chinese shop of cathartics—stop and all the purging through the Skin, Kidneys, Lungs, and all other emunctories performing functions of excretion, ceremonious sensations accompanying to the skin, Lungs, Kidneys, are interrupted in their excretions, there is the product of disease and decomposition, and must be purged from the living body through their proper channels; hence the purgative qualities of RADWAY'S PILLS extend to the secretions of the SKIN, KIDNEYS, LIVER, &c; whereas not one of the advertised Pills claim to act beyond the bowels.

How to Take Radway's Pills.

THEIR DAILY USE.

In doses of one or two pills, by the process of a full habit of body, subject to costiveness, as one dose to the head, pain in the stomach, and all those ailments that arise from a disordered stomach, or clogging of the blood vessels, that will equalize its circulation, and prevent sudden attacks of apoplexy, disease or the like of congestion. Persons who will take one or two pills daily every day will not suffer from Headache, Dizziness, Hysterics, Fainting Spells, Pains around the Heart, and a hundred other disagreeable symptoms.

DYSPEPSIA.

One of RADWAY'S PILLS, two or three hours before dinner, taken daily, will keep the system free from DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION, CONSTIPATION, COSTIVENESS, &c.

Bear in Mind,

RADWAY'S PILLS are the only purgative that will secure an alterative, diuretic, sudorific, aperient and tonic influence.

They are the only vegetable substitutes for Calomel or Mercury.

They promote the secretion of bile and withdraw it from the circulation.

They assist, through their nutritious properties, the chyme and chyle, and gastric juices in the process of digestion.

They are Purgative Coated with Gum, Perfectly Tasteless, and free from Smell.

PRICE, Twenty-Five Cents per Box, or Five Boxes for One Dollar. Always ask for RADWAY'S PILLS, and see that the letter D is RED on one side of the pill, and the words Radway's Renovating on the other. Sold by all Druggists and General Store Keepers, and at Dr. RADWAY'S Medical Office, 87 Maiden Lane, New York.

Radways Sarsaparillian Resolvent sold at $1 per Bottle, or six Bottles for $5, by all Druggists and Medicine Dealers and at Dr. Radway's Medical Warehouse, 87 Maiden Lane, New York City.

A Standard Remedy.

Such a remedy is Dr. Tobias Venetian Liniment. It has stood before the public for 22 years, and has never failed giving satisfaction in a single instance. Every drop of this valuable compound is mixed by Dr. Tobias himself, therefore it can always be relied on. It is warranted superior to any other for the cure of chronic rheumatism, toothache, headache, sore throat, vomiting, frosted feet, mumps, croup, burns, cuts sea sickness, insect stings, sprains, cholera, colic spasms, dysentery, colds, swellings, pains in the limbs, back and chest. There is no medicine in the world that stands more on its own merits than the Venetian Liniment. Thousands of certificates are seen at the doctor's office attesting to its rare virtues. Sold by all druggists and storekeepers, throughout the United States. Price 50 cents and $1 per bottle. Depot, 10 Park Place, New York. 479-dw

Scrofula Cured by Brandreth's Pills.

Brandreth's pills penetrate the whole mass of blood, causing the expulsion of impurities. The body feels relieved from a single dose; what then may be expected from a twenty? By continuing their use, the whole of the blood in time becomes purified, and the body reconstructed from good material, and a new lease of life is cured.

Sing Sing, March 27, 18[illegible].

My Dear Sir: My daughter Alice, thirteen years old, has been completely cured of that horrible disease, scrofula, which for years rendered life a torment; after all medicines and many physicians had been tried, and failed, I commenced giving her your pills. She took them almost every day constantly improving. She is now entirely recovered.

Yours truly, D. LUTHER.
Hon. B. BRANDRETH.

Eternal Vigilance

Is the price of health as well as liberty. Be on your guard against dangerous dyes.

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye

Is the only one which has stood the test of chemical analysis. At the store of the proprietor, 6 Astor House, New York, may be seen the certificate of that able analytical chemist, testifying that it contains no harmful ingredient. On the other hand, in the Journal of Chemestry may be found the statement that there are upwards of thirty poisonous hair dyes before the public. Choose the only safe and sure one.

PROF. CHILTON,

Cristadoro's Hair preservative, as a dressing, acts like a charm on the hair after dying. Try it.

B. A. FAHNESTOCK'S VERMIFUGE.

It is now over forty years since this medicine was offered to the public as a remedy for worms and from that time to the present it has steadily increased in favor, and at the present day it is almost universally acknowledged to be the most certain and effectual remedy ever discovered for the destruction of worms. Worms, which prove the sovereign remedy. Worms, which make more victims than all other diseases put together the past twenty years. No person can enjoy good health while troubled with worms. Worms, which destroy more children than all other diseases combined. Worms, which baffle the skill of many physicians. Worms, which cause more sickness and pain than all other causes. Worms, which cause more restless nights than all other causes. Worms, which cause more crying spells than all other causes. Worms, which cause more sudden deaths than all other causes. Worms, which cause more premature graves than all other causes. Worms, which cause more suffering than all other causes. Worms, which cause more grief than all other causes. Worms, which cause more trouble than all other causes. Worms, which cause more anxiety than all other causes. Worms, which cause more heartaches than all other causes. Worms, which cause more headaches than all other causes. Worms, which cause more backaches than all other causes. Worms, which cause more stomachaches than all other causes. Worms, which cause more toothaches than all other causes. Worms, which cause more earaches than all other causes. Worms, which cause more eyeaches than all other causes. Worms, which cause more limbaches than all other causes. Worms, which cause more bodyaches than all other causes. Worms, which cause more heartaches than all other causes. Worms, which cause more headaches than all other causes. Worms, which cause more backaches than all other causes. Worms, which cause more stomachaches than all other causes. Worms, which cause more toothaches than all other causes. Worms, which cause more earaches than all other causes. Worms, which cause more eyeaches than all other causes. Worms, which cause more limbaches than all other causes. Worms, which cause more bodyaches than all other causes.

When they are at table and feverish, sometimes craving food and sometimes ravenously, ate a strong appetite, will suddenly, without premonitory symptoms, be taken with violent pain, nausea, restlessness or sleep, nausea and grinding the teeth, then be assured these symptoms are infallible signs of worms.

Uneasiness and pain in the abdomen, with stoppage and hiccough, are generally connected with the presence of these hideous reptiles in muscles.

A gradual wasting away or emaciation of the flesh is one of the most common accompaniments upon worms. The stomach and bowels are the principal seat of the disease, by whose derangement digestion is impaired, the appetite is gone and a strong desire for food gratified.

The stomach has, undoubtedly, a very great sympathy with other parts of the body. In the case with respect to the irritation produced by worms, especially those residing in the stomach or bowels, there is the most extraordinary sympathy between the stomach and the head, and the stomach and the heart, and the stomach and the lungs, and the stomach and the liver, and the stomach and the kidneys, and the stomach and the bowels, and the stomach and the skin, and the stomach and the muscles, and the stomach and the nerves, and the stomach and the blood, and the stomach and the bones, and the stomach and the marrow, and the stomach and the brain, and the stomach and the spinal cord, and the stomach and the ganglionic system, and the stomach and the cerebro-spinal system, and the stomach and the sympathetic system, and the stomach and the voluntary system, and the stomach and the involuntary system, and the stomach and the organic system, and the stomach and the animal system, and the stomach and the vital system, and the stomach and the mental system, and the stomach and the moral system, and the stomach and the intellectual system, and the stomach and the social system, and the stomach and the domestic system, and the stomach and the political system, and the stomach and the religious system, and the stomach and the commercial system, and the stomach and the agricultural system, and the stomach and the manufacturing system, and the stomach and the mechanical system, and the stomach and the artistic system, and the stomach and the literary system, and the stomach and the scientific system, and the stomach and the philosophical system, and the stomach and the theological system, and the stomach and the ecclesiastical system, and the stomach and the political system, and the stomach and the social system, and the stomach and the domestic system, and the stomach and the commercial system, and the stomach and the agricultural system, and the stomach and the manufacturing system, and the stomach and the mechanical system, and the stomach and the artistic system, and the stomach and the literary system, and the stomach and the scientific system, and the stomach and the philosophical system, and the stomach and the theological system, and the stomach and the ecclesiastical system.

Many a helpless child has been laid in the grave, when the misery will caused its death might have been entirely prevented, and when worms have really been the cause, it has been proved beyond a doubt that worms exist in the human system from earliest infancy to old age. Then let parents—especially mothers who are in the constantly with their children, examine into the observing of the first symptoms of worms, for so sure as they exist, can they be safely and speedily removed by the use of B. A. Fahnestock's Vermifuge.

Parents, you will be doing to your child if you neglect it and see it suffer with worms, and many of the children die every year with worms, for they are the only remedy that never fails. It has been proved by thousands of certificates, and many of the children that have been saved by its use, while as a blood purifier and appetizer, they are unapproachable.

Dr S Beltzhoover, Scully & Co., the proprietors of these bitters, are manufacturing them extensively at their establishment, No. 77 Third Avenue, Pittsburgh, and are prepared to fill orders at any time by mail.

To Consumptives.

The advertiser, having been restored to health in a few weeks by a very simple remedy, after having suffered several years with a severe lung affliction and that dread disease, consumption, is anxious to make known to his fellow sufferers the means of cure. To all who desire it he will send a copy of the prescription used (free of charge), with the directions for preparing and using the same, which they will find a sure cure for consumption, asthma, bronchitis, &c. The object of the advertiser in sending the prescription is to benefit the afflicted, and spread information which he believes to be invaluable, and he hopes every sufferer will try

SEVERED.

BY ELLAMIE.

Where are the eyes, like starbeams, bathing
My soul in light?
Closed to my weary, longing vision,
In Death's chill night.

Were are the hands that erst clasped mine
With warm glad thrill?
Over the pulseless heart they lie,
Folded and still.

Where is the voice, whose tones soft stealing,
My heart's depths stirred?
It numbers sweet, in climes celestial,
Its music heard.

Where are the feet that nevermore
Keep step with me?
Climbing the amber hills which lie
Far o'er Time's sea.

Where are the lips, whose smile my soul
Did cheer and bless?
Pale, mute and cold—no more returning
Love's fond caress.

Oh Death, fling back thy shadowy portals,
Be pitiful! for she
In garments fair and iridescent
Awaiteth me,
Upon the hills whose amber slopes do lie
Beyond Time's sea.

JOSH BILLINGS PAPERS.

TIGHT BOOTS.

I would jist like tew kno who the man waz who fust invented tite boots.

He must hev bin a narrow and contracted cuss.

If he still lives I hope he haz repented of his sin, or is enjoying grate agony of sum kind.

I hev bin in a grate meny tite spots in mi life, but generally could manage to make them average; but there is no such thing as making a pair of tite boots average.

Yu kan't get an average on the pinch ov a tite boot cuny more than yu kan on the bite of a lobster.

Enny man who kan ware a pair ov tite boots and be humble, and penitent, and not indulge in profane literature, will make a good husband.

He will do more than that, he will do to divide up into several first class husbands, and be made to answer for a whole naborhood.

Oh! for the pen ov departed Wm. Shakspear, to write an anthem against tite boots, that would make anshunt Rome wake up, an howl agin az she did once before on a previous occasion.

Oh! for the strength ov a Hercules, to tare into shue strings all the tite boots in creashun, and skatter them to the 8 winds of heaven.

Oh! for the buty of Venus, tew make a big foot look handsome without a tite boot on it.

Oh! for the payshunce ov Job, the apostle, to nuss a tite boot and bless it and even pra for one a size smaller and more pinchful.

Oh! for a pare ov boots big enuff for the foot ov a mountain.

I hev bin led into the above assortment of Oh's! from having in my possession, at this moment a pare ov number nine boots with a pare ov number eleven feet in them.

Mi feet are az uneasy as a dog's noze the fust time he wears a muzzle.

I think mi feet will eventually choke the boots to deth.

I live in hopes they will.

I supposed I had lived long enuff not to be plooled agin in this way, but I hav found out that an ounce ov vanity weighs more than a pound ov reason, espeshily when a man mistakes a big foot for a small one.

Avoid tite boots, mi friend, az you would the grip of the devil; for meny a man haz caught for life a fust rate habit of swearing bi encouraging his feet to hurt his boots.

I hev promised mi two feet, at least a dozen times in mi checkured life, that they never should be strangled again, but I find them to-day az full ov pain az the stummick ake from a sudden attack ov tite boots.

But this iz solemnly the last pare of tite boots I will ever wear; I will hereafter wear boots az big az mi feet if I hav to go barefoot to do it.

I am too old and too respectable to be a phool enny more.

Eazy boots iz one ov the luxuries ov life, but I forgot what the other luxury iz, but I don't kno az I kare, provided I kan git rid ov this pare ov tite boots.

Enny man ken hav them for seven dollars, just half what they cost, and if they dont make his feet ake wus than an angle worm in hot ashes, he need n't pa for them.

Methuseler iz the only man, that I kan kall to mind now who could hev afforded to ware tite boots, and enjoyed them; he had a grate deal ov waste time to be miserable in, but life now days, is too short, too full ov aktual business to phool away enny ov it on tite boots. Tite boots are an insult to enny man's understanding.

He who wears tite boots will hav to acknowledge the corn.

Tite boots hav no bowels of mercy, their insides are wrath, and promiscuous cussing.

Beware ov tite boots.

A candidate for medical honors, having thrown himself almost into a fever from his incapacity to answer the questions was asked, 'How would you sweat a person for the rheumatism? He replied, 'I would send him here to be examined.'

A young man at a recent fire in Rutland, Vt., threw away a pail of water because it was too hot to do any good.

Winchester, O., July 25, 1859.

Dr. C. W. Roback—Dear Sir: For the benefit of suffering humanity permit me to say that I have been selling your Scandinavian blood purifier and blood pills extensively, and that they give general satisfaction. I use them in my family and find that they are the very best medicines I have ever used in cases where the disease originates from impurity of the blood. They are healing and strengthening. I would therefore recommend them to all persons afflicted with chronic diseases or waisting of flesh, or any derangement of the digestive organs. Yours respectfully, Ross ALLISON,

Agent for the above medicines.

MRS. ALLEN'S

Hair Restorer & Zylobalsamum

Are so uniformly grateful and beneficial, that they are with justice called the natural strengtheners of the human hair. They are two entirely separate and distinct preparations, not to be used together at one time.

Mrs. Allen's Hair Restorer

Never fails to satisfy the most refined and cultivated. A guarantee goes with every bottle, that it will quickly restore gray or white hair to its original youthful beauty, gloss and color; after its use a few times the hair will grow thicker and stronger. It will stop its falling and induce a healthy and luxuriant growth. It is an exquisite hair dressing, agreeable, harmless and healthy. Entirely different from most other preparations for the hair, its composition and ingredients are nourishing, giving life and vigor to the Roots.

Mrs. Allen's Zylobalsamum

This exquisite preparation is free from any sediment, and is a toilet treasure. The urgent want of a simple Hair Dressing, for the youth of both sexes, first induced the manufacture of the Zylobalsamum, and the sale of it is perfectly immense, not only in this country, but in Europe.

EXTRACTS FROM A FEW LETTERS.

"Your Zylobalsamum is used by every member, young and old, of our family, and we consider it invaluable. Should any gray hairs appear, we shall try your Hair Restorer, which we hear very highly spoken of."

"Father and mother use your Hair Restorer, and are delighted with it. It soon restored their gray locks to their youthful color, but daughters and son still find in the Zylobalsamum all their hair requires."

From the Principal of one of our large Female Seminaries: "Your Zylobalsamum has been used for many years by myself and family, and is the favorite among our young ladies."

$30 Hinkley Knitting Machine. $30

The most perfect machine yet invented. Will widen and narrow, turn a heel, or point the toe. It will knit plain or ribbed. It will knit stockings, drawers, shirts, hoods, comforters, mittens. It is cheap simple and durable. It sets up its own work, uses but one needle, and requires no adjusting whatever. It will do the same work that the Lamb machine will do, and costs less than half as much, and has not the tenth part of the machinery to get out of order. Circulars and samples mailed free on application. Agents wanted. All machines guaranteed.

This is no patent medicine humbug, gotten up to dupe the ignorant and credulous, nor is it represented as being "composed of rare and precious substances brought from the four corners of the earth, carried seven times across the Great Desert of Saharah on the backs of fourteen camels, and brought across the Atlantic Ocean on two Ships." It is a simple, mild, soothing Remedy, a perfect Specific for Catarrh and "Cold in the head," also for offensive Breath, Loss or Impairment of the Sense of smell, Tast or Hearing, Watering or Weak Eyes, Pain or Pressure in the Head, when caused, as they all not unfrequently are, by the violence of Catarrh.

We offer, in good faith, a standing Reward of $500 for a case of Catarrh that we cannot cure.

For Sale By Most Druggists Everywhere. Price 50 cts.

Sent by mail, post paid, on receipt of Sixty Cents. Four packages for $2,00 or 1 dozen for $5,00.
